Self-Advocacy & the Church

Laura will walk you through her journey of becoming a self-advocate at church. We will explore what it means to include people with disabilities and how to see everyone as part of the Body of Christ with important gifts to bring to the community.

Beyond Disability

How should we consider differences and address challenges surrounding disability? What is the bridge to hospitality? There are ways to see beyond disability in order to build connection. Laura has identified six practices that help extend hospitality and create welcoming spaces for all people.

The Way to Hope & Dream

We all face turning points in life. How do we keep hope alive and carry unfulfilled dreams while still being content? Based on her life, Laura will leave you with Scripture and wisdom for loving your right now.

Disability at Church:

Where Advocacy and Inclusion Intersect

Laura will explain why advocacy shouldn't just be in the political sphere and how the church can come alongside a person with a disability and advocate with them. Advocacy is a necessary piece to the inclusion puzzle. Inclusion is much more than physical access to the building; it's about being a community that breaks down barriers.

THRIVE

When the culture thinks of disability, they see a life of just surviving. Laura believe a disabled person can thrive with their limits. What would a person need to thrive? Through personal stories and Biblical wisdom, she will guide you to THRIVE, giving you practical ways to move towards thriving.

Poetry Reading

Laura is also available to recite poems from her book, Beyond, as well as speak on limits, longings, love, and loss.

If you are looking for a different topic or planning a special event, please call or email Laura, and she will brainstorm with you.

Laura C. Robb was born with Arthrogryposis Multiplex Congenita (AMC), a physical disability. Limitations have always affected her daily life, but she doesn't see obstacles. She sees these limits as opportunities for depending on God and her community. Laura constantly finds ways to embrace the story she is living, chasing dreams and overcoming the challenges as they come. As she shares her own journey, Laura hopes to encourage others that thriving beyond limits is possible.
